

The Sacred Woman Bendigo

Take part in this deliciously empowering journey of connection, healing, ceremony, authenticity and deep intention ...

A group of amazing women will come together once a week to dive into, explore and celebrate the many and varied aspects of who we are as Sacred Women.

Over six evenings the journey will unfold culminating in a sacred weekend of learning, healing and transformation - from which each woman will emerge draped in her magnificence.

The Sacred Woman Program

Through ritual, ceremony, meditation, presentations, body work, movement, drumming, sharing and support these women will:

- Connect to a deeper place within that holds wisdom, intuition and knowing & Experience feminine empowerment; embracing sensuality, sexuality and sacredness
- Be nurtured and inspired - feeling deep love for themselves as Sacred Women
- Truly connect to their glorious, alive and radiant selves.

Some words from a past Sacred Woman participant

I met Robyn 11 years ago now – when I attended her Sacred Woman Workshop. I was the youngest woman, at 19, to attend that circle and be held in the sacred space that Robyn facilitated for us so beautifully. I had known that there must've been a different way to nurture the feminine rather than what my environment screamed at me from glossy magazine covers and advertisements, and I found a sacred way to honour my womanhood in circle with Robyn. Robyn introduced me to the inherent power of my moon time, this was a lesson I took to heart and I continue a strong relationship with my body's wisdom through an intimate knowledge of my cycles. Those early lessons shared through Robyn's experiences and sitting in circle with women who had such different stories, these built me up and added to my power as a woman. I knew then that my mission was to work with women too. The power in those circle nights was incredible, raw, honest and so supported. Robyn's insight, her lessons – they last a lifetime. When I draw my power about me in times of need, these are some of the core lessons I draw on.

I count Robyn among my life's mentors for the wisdom she shared in our circles – she holds the sacred women's space naturally, a goddess truly!

As a gift to yourself, I would highly recommend attending Robyn's Sacred Woman Workshops. This is important work.
